1. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

1.1 This Policy is the framework on which the Council applies the provisions of The Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act 2000 (RIPA) as it relates to covert surveillance. It must be read in conjunction with the statutory codes of practice issued by the Secretary of State and any additional guidance provided by individual Directorates relevant to their respective service areas.

1.2 Article 8 of the Human Rights Act 2000 (HRA) provides the right to respect for private and family life:

‘Everyone has the right to respect for his private and family life, his home and his correspondence.’

1.3 Article 8 of the HRA goes on to state:

‘There shall be no interference by a public authority with the exercise of this right except such as in accordance with the law and is necessary in a democratic society in the interests of national security, public safety or the economic well-being of the country, for the prevention of disorder or crime, for the protection of health or morals, or for the protection of the rights and freedoms of others.'

- 1.4 The rights conferred by Article 8 are therefore qualified, meaning that the Council may interfere with these rights providing that such interference is:
- in accordance with the law;
  - necessary; and
  - proportionate.
- 1.1 RIPA provides a statutory framework under which the Council may seek authorisation to permit;
- the use of Directed Surveillance;
  - the use of Covert Human Intelligence Sources (CHIS); and
  - the Acquisition and Disclosure of Communications Data.
- 1.5 The Council's ability to use RIPA legislation is limited, and in practice only directed surveillance is likely to be relevant, for reasons set out within this Policy.
- 1.6 Use of a CHIS must never be undertaken without consultation with the Director of Democratic and Legal Services and a senior police officer. Where an Officer is thinking of using a CHIS, this must first be discussed with the Council's Senior Responsible Officer prior to consultation.
- 1.7 Local Authorities can only authorise the use of directed surveillance on the grounds of;
- (a) the prevention or detection of criminal offences (that are either punishable by a maximum of at least 6 month's imprisonment OR are related to the underage sale of alcohol and tobacco); or

- (b) the prevention of disorder that involves criminal offences that are punishable by a maximum of at least 6 month's imprisonment.
- 1.8 The Council cannot therefore authorise the use of directed surveillance to investigate disorder that does not involve criminal offences, or to investigate low-level offences such as littering, dog fouling or fly-posting.
- 1.9 Authorisations are also subject to judicial approval, meaning that the Council must obtain the approval of the Magistrates' Court for any grant or renewal of a RIPA Authorisation. The Magistrates' Court will only approve an Authorisation where satisfied that the statutory tests have been met, and that the use of the technique is necessary and proportionate. Authorisation cannot commence until this approval has been obtained.
- 1.10 Applications to the Magistrates' Court for approval of an Authorisation must be made in accordance with the requirements of the Court.
- 1.11 Through the application of Authorisation procedures and Magistrates' Court approval RIPA ensures that a balance is maintained between the public interest and the human rights of individuals.
- 1.12 If the RIPA procedures are followed correctly the conduct of an investigation will be deemed lawful for all purposes (section 27 RIPA). This protection extends to criminal and civil proceedings, Employment Tribunal hearings and a complaint to either the Local Government Ombudsman or the Investigatory Powers Tribunal. It therefore provides protection both for the Council and any Officer who may have been involved in an investigation.
- 1.13 It is possible that unauthorised surveillance will be a breach of a person's right to privacy under Article 8. Even if surveillance without due Authorisation in a particular instance is not illegal, if Authorisation is not obtained, the surveillance carried out will not have the protection that RIPA affords.
- 1.14 If the correct procedures are not followed;

- The Authorisation will not take effect as it will not be approved by the Magistrates Court if there are not reasonable grounds;
- Court proceedings that rely upon the information obtained by surveillance may be undermined;
- A complaint of maladministration may be made to the Ombudsman;
- The Council could be the subject of an adverse Report by the Office of Surveillance Commissioners;
- The HRA provides a cause of action for damages and/or an injunction against the Council should it be proven that the Councils' actions amount to an unwarranted interference with human rights.

1.15 Such action would not, of course, promote the good reputation of the Council and will, undoubtedly, be the subject of adverse press and media interest. It is therefore essential that all involved with RIPA comply with this Document and any further guidance that may be issued, from time to time, by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

1.16 RIPA does;

- require prior authorisation of directed surveillance.
- prohibit the Council from carrying out intrusive surveillance.
- compel disclosure of communications data from telecom and postal service providers.
- require authorisation of the conduct and use of a CHIS.
- require safeguards for the conduct and use of a CHIS.
- permit the Council to obtain Communications records from Communications service providers.

1.17 RIPA does not;

- make unlawful anything that is otherwise lawful;
- impose any new statutory duties;
- prejudice or dis-apply any existing powers available to the Council to obtain information by any means not involving conduct that is governed by RIPA. (For example it does not affect the Council's current powers to obtain information from the DVLA or the Land Registry).

1.18 If the Authorising Officer or any Applicant is in any doubt, they should ask the Director of Democratic and Legal Services BEFORE any directed surveillance and/or CHIS is authorised, renewed, cancelled or rejected.

1.19 The use of the powers conferred by RIPA is subject to scrutiny by the Office of the Surveillance Commissioners, which carries out periodic inspections of the Council's practices and procedures. Furthermore, RIPA also provides for the establishment of a Tribunal to determine complaints about the use of RIPA powers. It is therefore essential that surveillance is always carried out in compliance with RIPA, the policies and codes of practice referred to in this document and any advice or guidance that may be issued from time to time by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

2. SURVEILLANCE

2.1 Surveillance includes;

- monitoring, observing or listening to persons, their movements, their conversations or their other activities or communications;
- recording anything monitored, observed or listened to in the course of surveillance; and
- surveillance by or with the assistance of a surveillance device (meaning any apparatus designed or adapted for use in surveillance).

Surveillance can be either overt or covert.

2.2 Overt Surveillance

2.2.1 Most of the surveillance undertaken by the Council will be done overtly – there will be nothing secretive, clandestine or hidden about it. In many cases, Officers will be behaving in the same way as a normal member of the public (e.g. in the case of most test purchases), and/or will be going about Council business openly (e.g. a market inspector walking through markets).

2.2.2 Similarly, surveillance will be overt if the subject has been told it will happen e.g. where a noisemaker is warned (preferably in writing) that noise will be recorded if the noise continues, or where an entertainment licence is issued subject to conditions, and the licensee is told that officers may visit without notice or identifying themselves to the owner/proprietor to check that the conditions are being met.

2.3 Covert surveillance

2.3.1 Surveillance is covert where it is 'carried out in a manner calculated to ensure that the person or persons subject to the surveillance are unaware that it is or may be taking place'.

2.4 Directed Surveillance

2.4.1 Directed surveillance is surveillance which:

- is covert;
- is not intrusive surveillance (the Council must not carry out intrusive surveillance or interfere with private property, see below);
- is not carried out as an immediate response to events which would otherwise make seeking authorisation unreasonable, e.g. spotting something suspicious and continuing to observe it; and
- is undertaken for the purpose of a specific investigation or operation in a manner likely to obtain private information about an individual (whether or not that person is specifically targeted for purposes of an investigation).

2.4.2 Private information in relation to a person includes any information relating to his private and family life, his home and his correspondence. The fact that covert surveillance occurs in a public place or on business premises does not mean that it cannot result in the obtaining of private information about a person. Prolonged surveillance targeted on a single person will undoubtedly result in the obtaining of private information about him/her and others that they come into contact or associate with.

2.4.3 Similarly, although overt town centre CCTV cameras do not normally require authorisation, if the camera(s) are to be directed for a specific purpose to observe particular individual(s), authorisation will be required. The way a person runs his/her business may also reveal information about his or her private life and the private lives of others.

2.5 Intrusive Surveillance

2.5.1 Intrusive surveillance is surveillance which:

- is covert;
- is carried out in relation to anything taking place on any residential premises or in any private vehicle; and

- involves the presence of an individual on the premises or in the vehicle or is carried out by means of a surveillance device.

2.5.2 Intrusive surveillance cannot be carried out or approved by the Council. Only the police and other law enforcement agencies are permitted to use such powers. Likewise, the Council has no statutory powers to interfere with private property.

2.6 Necessity

2.6.1 RIPA requires that the person granting an authorisation believe that the authorisation is necessary in the circumstances of the particular case. Therefore, applicants and Authorising officers should consider why directed surveillance is NECESSARY. In addressing the issues of necessity in any particular case, information should include:

- Why directed surveillance is needed to obtain information that is sought from the operation?
- Why is it necessary to interfere with an individuals' privacy using covert surveillance?
- Why covert surveillance is the best option to obtain the information having considered other alternatives?
- What other methods of obtaining the information has been considered and why they have been discounted?

2.6.2 The Council cannot authorise directed surveillance unless the following conditions are met:

- The surveillance is for the purpose of preventing or detecting conduct which constitutes one or more criminal offences; and
- The criminal offence (or one of the criminal offences) is or would be punishable, whether on summary conviction or on indictment, by a maximum term of at least 6 months of imprisonment.

OR

- The criminal offence is an offence under:
  - section 146 of the Licensing Act 2003 (sale of alcohol to children);
  - section 147 of the Licensing Act 2003 (allowing the sale of alcohol to children);
  - section 147A of the Licensing Act 2003 (persistently selling alcohol to children);
  - section 7 of the Children and Young Persons Act 1933 (sale of tobacco, etc, to persons under eighteen).

2.7 Proportionality

2.7.1 If the directed surveillance is deemed to be necessary, the person authorising must also believe that it is also proportionate to what is sought to be achieved. This involves balancing the seriousness of the intrusion into the privacy of the subject of the operation (or any other person who may be affected) against the need for the activity in investigative and operational terms.

2.7.2 The authorisation must not be excessive in the overall circumstances of the case. Each action authorised should bring an expected benefit to the investigation or operation and should not be disproportionate or arbitrary.

2.7.3 No activity should be considered proportionate if the information sought could reasonably be obtained by other less intrusive means.

2.7.4 The following elements of proportionality should be considered:

- balancing the size and scope of the proposed activity against the gravity and extent of the perceived crime or offence;
- explaining how and why the methods to be adopted will cause the least possible intrusion on the subject and others;

- considering whether the activity is an appropriate use of the legislation and a reasonable way, having considered all reasonable alternatives, of obtaining the necessary result;
- evidencing, as far as reasonably practicable, what other methods had been considered and why they were not implemented.

2.8 Confidential Information

2.8.1 Special safeguards apply with regard to confidential information. Confidential information consists of;

- Communications subject to legal privilege;

A substantial proportion of the communications between a lawyer and his client(s) may be subject to legal privilege.

- Communications between a Member of Parliament and another person on constituency matters;

Confidential constituent information is information relating to communications between a Member of Parliament and a constituent in respect of constituency matters. Such information is held in confidence if it is held subject to an express or implied undertaking to hold it in confidence or it is subject to a restriction on disclosure or an obligation of confidentiality contained in existing legislation.

- Confidential personal information;

Confidential personal information is information held in confidence relating to the physical or mental health or spiritual counselling concerning an individual (whether living or dead) who can be identified from it. Such information, which can include both oral and written communications, is held in confidence if it is held subject to an express or implied undertaking to hold it in confidence or it is subject to a restriction on disclosure or an obligation of confidentiality contained in existing legislation. Examples might include consultations between a health professional and a patient, or information from a patient's medical records.

- Confidential journalistic material.

Confidential journalistic material includes material acquired or created for the purposes of journalism and held subject to an undertaking to hold it in confidence, as well as communications resulting in information being acquired for the purposes of journalism and held subject to such an undertaking.

2.8.2 Where there is any doubt as to the handling and dissemination of confidential information, advice should be sought from the Director of Democratic and Legal Services before any further dissemination of the material takes place.

2.9 Collateral Intrusion

2.9.1 Before authorising applications for directed surveillance, the Authorising Officer should also take into account the risk of obtaining private information about persons who are not subjects of the surveillance or operation (collateral intrusion).

2.9.2 Measures should be taken, wherever practicable, to avoid or minimise unnecessary intrusion into the privacy of those who are not the intended subjects of the surveillance activity.

2.9.3 Those carrying out the surveillance should inform the Authorising Officer if the investigation or operation unexpectedly interferes with the privacy of individuals who are not covered by the authorisation. When the original authorisation may not be sufficient, consideration should be given to whether the authorisation needs to be amended and reauthorised or a new authorisation is required.

2.10 Retention and Destruction of Material Obtained From Surveillance

2.10.1 Where the product of surveillance could be relevant to pending or future criminal or civil proceedings, it should be retained in accordance with established disclosure requirements for a suitable period and subject to review.

2.10.2 There is nothing in RIPA which prevents material obtained from properly authorised surveillance from being used in other investigations. Authorising Officers must ensure, therefore, that arrangements are in place for the handling, storage and destruction of material obtained through the use of covert surveillance. Authorising Officers must also ensure compliance with the appropriate data protection requirements and any relevant codes of practice produced by individual authorities relating to the handling and storage of material.

2.11 Non RIPA Surveillance

2.11.1 Following a decision of the Investigatory Powers Tribunal (IPT/03/32 - C v The Police), it was established that RIPA authorisation is not required where the surveillance is undertaken as part of an investigation in relation to an employee's misconduct or breach of the terms and conditions of the employee's contract of employment, i.e. any investigation undertaken other than arising from an investigation undertaken in compliance with a statutory function. Other examples of areas where non RIPA Surveillance can be undertaken include investigating suspected fraudulent Personal Injury claims or investigations into alleged contraventions of the Council's terms and conditions of employment by an employee.

2.11.2 This contrasts with authorised surveillance under RIPA that would be undertaken to allow a public authority to comply with its statutory functions, e.g. benefit fraud, or illegal dumping of waste.

2.11.3 However, such non RIPA surveillance may still potentially be viewed as infringing the employee's right to privacy as established under Article 8 of the Human Rights Act.

2.11.4 Where such surveillance, pertaining to a non-criminal investigation into the conduct of an employee, is required, officers are required to complete the appropriate form(s), as set out in Appendix G and then forward them to an Authorising Officer for approval.

2.11.5 For purposes of consistency, authorisations will last for 3 months and appropriate action must be taken to review, renew and cancel authorisations.

2.11.6 The Authorising Officer will apply the same criteria as if the request was for RIPA authorisation, such as considering the necessity and proportionality of the surveillance against the subject of the investigation, the requirements to avoid (wherever possible) obtaining confidential information and limiting collateral intrusion still remain.

- 2.12 Once authorised, a signed original copy of the authorised form and subsequent review, renewal and cancellation forms must be kept secure with the investigation file, and a copy of the authorisation and subsequent reviews, renewals and cancellations must be forwarded to the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

3. COVERT HUMAN INTELLIGENCE SOURCES (CHIS)

3.1 Whilst it is theoretically possible that the Council may wish to establish a Covert Human Intelligence Source (CHIS) to act undercover, the instances when this will occur will be very rare indeed if ever. No CHIS should be considered without direct consultation with the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

3.2 Given the lack of experience of “handling” undercover Officers within the Council it is likely that the police will be consulted and requested to assist.

3.3 A risk assessment covering the health and safety of the CHIS must also be carried out. This is compulsory.

3.4 What is a CHIS?

3.4.1 A person is a CHIS if:

(a) they establish or maintain a personal or other relationship with a person for the covert purpose of facilitating the doing of anything falling within paragraph (b) or (c);

(b) they covertly use such a relationship to obtain information or to provide access to any information to another person;

(c) they covertly disclose information obtained by the use of such a relationship, or as a consequence of the existence of such a relationship.

3.5 What must be Authorised?

3.5.1 The conduct or use of a CHIS requires prior authorisation.

3.5.2 Use of a CHIS involves any action on behalf of the Council to induce, ask or assist a person to engage in the conduct of a CHIS, or to obtain information by means of the conduct of a CHIS.

3.5.3 Conduct of a CHIS is any conduct of a CHIS falling within paragraph 3.4.1 above or is incidental to anything falling within the same.

3.5.4 Most CHIS authorisations will be for both use and conduct. This is because public authorities usually take action in connection with the CHIS, such as tasking the CHIS to undertake covert action, and because the CHIS will be expected to take action in relation to the public authority, such as responding to particular tasking.

3.5.5 Authorisations are also subject to judicial approval and cannot commence until this has been obtained.

3.6 For the purpose of paragraph (d) of section 29(5) of RIPA, detailed records must be kept relating to each source. These are listed in Regulation 3 of the Regulation of Investigatory Powers (Source Records) Regulations 2000.

3.7 Juvenile Sources

3.7.1 Special safeguards apply to the use or conduct of juvenile sources (i.e. those under 18 years old). On no occasion can a child under 16 years of age be authorised to give information against his or her parents. Only the Chief Executive and/or the Director of Democratic and Legal Services are duly authorised by the Council to permit the use of Juvenile Sources as there are other onerous requirements for such matters.

3.7.2 The duration of such an authorisation is one month from the time of grant or renewal (instead of 12 months). The age test is applied at the time of the grant or renewal of the authorisation.

3.8 Vulnerable Individuals

3.8.1 A vulnerable Individual is a person who is or may be in need of community care services by reason of mental or other disability, age or illness and who is or may be unable to take care of himself or herself, or unable to protect himself or herself against significant harm or exploitation.

3.8.2 A vulnerable individual will only be authorised to act as a CHIS in the most exceptional circumstances. Only the Chief Executive and/or the Director of Democratic and Legal Services are duly authorised by the Council to permit the use of vulnerable individuals as a source, as there are other onerous requirements for such matters, and the potential increased likelihood of harm to the vulnerable individual.

3.9 Human Source Activity Falling Outside of CHIS

- 3.9.1 Not all human source activity will fall within the definition of a CHIS. For example, a source may be a public volunteer who discloses information out of professional or statutory duty, or has been tasked to obtain information other than by way of relationship.
- 3.9.2 Test Purchases – Carrying out test purchases will not require the purchaser to establish a relationship with the supplier with the covert purpose of obtaining information, and therefore the purchaser will not normally be a CHIS. For example, authorisation would not normally be required for test purchases carried out in the ordinary course of business (e.g. walking into a shop and purchasing a product over the counter).
- 3.9.3 By contrast, developing a relationship with a person in the shop to obtain information about the seller's suppliers of an illegal product (e.g. illegally imported products) will require authorisation as a CHIS. Similarly, using mobile hidden recording devices or CCTV cameras to record what is going on in the shop will require authorisation as directed surveillance. A combined authorisation can be given for CHIS and also directed surveillance.
- 3.9.4 Anti-Social Behaviour – persons who complain about anti-social behaviour, and are asked to keep a diary, will not normally be a CHIS, as they are not required to establish or maintain a relationship for a covert purpose. Recording the level of noise (e.g. the decibel level) will not normally capture private information and, therefore, does not require authorisation.
- 3.9.5 Recording sound (with a DAT recorder) on private premises could constitute intrusive surveillance, unless it is done overtly. For example, it will be possible to record if the noisemaker is warned that this will occur if the level of noise continues. Placing a stationary or mobile video camera outside a building to record anti-social behaviour on residential estates will require prior authorisation.

3.9.6 Public Volunteers – In many cases involving human sources, a relationship will not have been established or maintained for a covert purpose. Many sources merely volunteer or provide information that is within their personal knowledge, without being induced, asked, or tasked by a public authority. This means the source is not a CHIS for the purposes of RIPA and no authorisation is required. For example, a member of the public may contact the Council and volunteer information regarding something they have witnessed in their neighbourhood.

3.9.7 Professional or Statutory Duty – Certain individuals will be required to provide information to public authorities or designated bodies out of professional or statutory duty. For example, employees within organisations regulated by money laundering legislation will be required to report suspicious transactions. Similarly, financial officials, accountants or company administrators may have a duty to provide information that they have obtained by virtue of their position to the Serious Fraud Office.

3.9.8 Furthermore, this reporting is undertaken ‘in accordance with the law’ and any action likely to interfere with an individual’s privacy will not engage a person’s human rights under Article 8.

3.9.9 This statutory or professional duty would not extend to a situation where a person is asked to provide information which they acquire as a result of an existing professional or business relationship with the subject but that person is under no obligation to pass it on. For example, a travel agent who is asked by the police to find out when a regular client next intends to fly to a particular destination is not under an obligation to pass this information on. In these circumstances a CHIS authorisation may be appropriate.

3.10 Further Information

3.10.1 Further guidance on CHIS can be found in the Home Office Covert Human Intelligence Sources Code of Practice available at:

https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment\_data/file/97958/code-practice-human-intel.pdf

4. COMMUNICATIONS DATA

4.1 Interception of Postal Items, Telephone Calls and Emails

4.1.1 Chapter I of Part I of RIPA deals with the interception of postal items, telephone calls and emails. Normally this requires a warrant issued by the Secretary of State. Exceptions exist where both sender and recipient consent, or where one of the parties consents and an authorisation under Part II of RIPA has been granted. Unlawful interception can be a criminal offence.

4.1.2 The Telecommunications (Lawful Business Practice) (Interception of Communications) Regulation 2000 specifically authorise certain interceptions of telecommunications which would otherwise be prohibited by section 1 of RIPA. Regulation 3(1)(a) allows a business (which does include any public authority) to monitor its own internal communications system, including telephone calls, email messages and internet usage, for the following purposes (that are relevant to a local authority):

- To establish the existence of facts;
- To ascertain or demonstrate standards to be achieved (quality control and training);
- To prevent or detect crime;
- To investigate or detect unauthorised use of telecommunication systems; or
- To secure effective system operation.

4.1.3 These are far more wide ranging than the grounds normally available for directed surveillance under Part II of RIPA. It is therefore much easier to use the authority provided by the above stated Regulations, rather than the limited ones available under Part II of RIPA. The Regulations require that the Council make all reasonable efforts to inform potential users that interceptions may be made.

- 4.1.4 The Council has an Email Policy and Email usage guidelines. These describe the arrangements that the Council has in place for monitoring email communication. Informing members of staff of these policies and potential monitoring arrangements should be addressed within an employee's induction. Consent of the employee is not required for this monitoring however where employees are given facilities to make private telephone calls they should be given the opportunity to make calls without being monitored.
- 4.1.5 Where the Council monitor or record any telephone conversations the public need to be warned of this. This can be included as a footnote to entries in the telephone directory and on leaflets and advertisements. It can also be addressed through a recorded message or referred to specifically whenever the switchboard answers an incoming call. The purpose is ordinarily explained to be quality control and training. External emails are not normally intercepted during transmission, but are monitored only after they have arrived. Internal emails would be covered by the warning to members of staff. Internet access only involved the individual member of staff.
- 4.1.6 Further information about the interception of communications under RIPA can be found in the Home Office Interception of Communications Code of Practice at:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/interception-of-communications-code-of-practice>

4.2 Acquisition and Disclosure of Communications Data

- 4.2.1 Chapter II of Part I of RIPA covers the acquisition and disclosure of data held by any postal service or mobile telephone service about their customers. This is not directly relevant to local authorities as the data concerned is not relevant to the Councils' functions and powers.
- 4.2.2 Further information about the acquisition and disclosure of communications data under RIPA can be found in the Home Office Acquisition and Disclosure of Communications Data Code of Practice at:

5. AUTHORISATION PROCEDURES

5.1 Directed surveillance and the use of CHIS can only be lawfully carried out if properly authorised, and in strict accordance with the terms of the authorisation. Appendix C (Directed Surveillance) and Appendix E (CHIS) provide flow charts of processes from application/consideration to recording of information and the storage/retention of data obtained.

5.2 Authorising Officers

5.2.1 Forms can only be signed by Authorising Officers appointed by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services. Authorised posts are listed in Appendix A. This Appendix will be kept up to date and added to as needs require. If a Chief Officer wishes to add, delete or substitute a post, s/he must refer such request to the Director of Democratic and Legal Services for consideration, as necessary. The Director of Democratic and Legal Services has been duly authorised to add, delete or substitute posts listed in Appendix A.

5.2.2 Authorisations under RIPA are separate from delegated authority to act under the Council's Scheme of Delegation and internal departmental Schemes of Delegation. All RIPA authorisations, save for authorisations to collect communications data under s22 (3) RIPA are for specific investigations only, and must be reviewed, renewed or cancelled once the specific surveillance is complete or about to expire. The authorisations do not lapse with time!

5.3 Training Records

5.3.1 Appropriate training will be given (or approved) by the Director of Legal and Democratic Services before Authorising Officers are certified to sign any RIPA Forms. A record of training will be retained by the Head of Corporate Information Management and a Central Register of all those individuals who have undergone training (or a one-to-one meeting) with the Head of Corporate Information Management or the Director of Legal and Democratic Services on such matters will be kept by the Head of Corporate Information Management.

5.3.2 If the Director of Democratic and Legal Services feels that an Authorising Officer has not complied fully with the requirements of this Document, or the training provided to him/her, the Director of Democratic and Legal Services is duly authorised to retract that Officer's authorisation until s/he has undertaken further approved training or a one-to-one meeting with the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

5.4 Application Forms

5.4.1 Only the RIPA forms below or contained on the Home Office website are permitted to be used. Any other forms used, will be rejected by the Authorising Officer and/or the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

5.4.2 A Forms (Directed Surveillance) – Appendix C

5.5 Grounds for Authorisation

5.5.1 The Council cannot authorise directed surveillance unless the following conditions are met:

- The surveillance is for the purpose of preventing or detecting conduct which constitutes one or more criminal offences; and

- The criminal offence (or one of the criminal offences) is or would be punishable, whether on summary conviction or on indictment, by a maximum term of at least 6 months of imprisonment.

OR

- The criminal offence is an offence under:
  - section 146 of the Licensing Act 2003 (sale of alcohol to children);
  - section 147 of the Licensing Act 2003 (allowing the sale of alcohol to children);
  - section 147A of the Licensing Act 2003 (persistently selling alcohol to children);
  - section 7 of the Children and Young Persons Act 1933 (sale of tobacco, etc, to persons under eighteen).

5.5.2 The Council cannot authorise directed surveillance or CHIS on any other grounds (no other grounds are available to local authorities).

5.5.3 Non RIPA Surveillance - The forms set out in Appendix G have been developed to support and reflect the necessary changes following the IPT decision, IPT/03/32 C vs. The Police.

5.6 Assessing the Application Form

5.6.1 Before an Authorising Officer signs a Form, they must:

- (a) Be mindful of this Corporate Policy & Procedures Document, the training provided by the Head of Corporate Information Management and any other guidance issued from time to time by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services on such matters;
- (b) Satisfy themselves that:

- (i) the RIPA authorisation is in accordance with the law;
  - (ii) the offence falls within the categories listed at 5.5.1;
  - (iii) the authorisation is necessary in the circumstances of the particular case; and
  - (iv) the authorisation is proportionate to what it seeks to achieve.
- (c) In assessing whether or not the proposed surveillance is proportionate, consider whether there are any other non-intrusive, and if there are none, whether the proposed surveillance is no more than necessary to achieve the objective, as the least intrusive method will be considered proportionate by the courts.
- (d) Take into account the risk of intrusion into the privacy of persons other than the specified subject of the surveillance (collateral intrusion). Measures must be taken wherever practicable to avoid or minimise (so far as is possible) collateral intrusion and the matter may be an aspect of determining proportionality.
- (e) Set a date for review of the authorisation and review on that date using the appropriate form.
- (f) Allocate a unique reference number (URN) for each form in the format:
Year/Dept/Number of Application.
- (g) Ensure that any RIPA Departmental Register is duly completed, and that a copy of the RIPA Forms (and any review / renewal / cancellation of the same) is forwarded to the Director of Democratic and Services, within 1 week of the relevant authorisation, review, renewal, cancellation or rejection.
- (h) If unsure on any matter, obtain advice from the Director of Democratic and Legal Services before signing any forms.

5.6.2 When authorising the use or conduct of a CHIS, the Authorising Officer must also:

- (a) Be satisfied that the conduct and/or use of the CHIS is proportionate to what is sought to be achieved;

- (b) Be satisfied that appropriate arrangements are in place for the management and oversight of the CHIS and this must address health and safety issues through a risk assessment;
- (c) Consider the likely degree of intrusion of all those potentially affected;
- (d) Consider any adverse impact on community confidence that may result from the use or conduct or the information obtained;
- (e) Ensure records contain particulars and are not available except on a need to know basis; and
- (f) If unsure on any matter, obtain the advice from the Director of Democratic and Legal Services before signing any forms.

5.7 Approval by a Justice of the Peace

5.7.1 The Protection of Freedoms Act 2012 amended RIPA so that all local authority authorisations are subject to judicial approval. This means that the Council must obtain an order of a Justice of the Peace (JP) at the Magistrates' Court approving the grant or renewal of an authorisation before it can take effect.

5.7.2 Although it is theoretically possible for local authorities to request judicial approval for the use of more than one technique (i.e. Directed Surveillance, CHIS and Communications Data) at the same time, in practice, as different considerations need to be applied to these different techniques, this would be difficult to perform with the degree of clarity required. It is recommended that separate authorisations or notices to use different RIPA techniques should be submitted.

5.7.3 It should be noted that only the initial application and any renewal of the application require magistrates' approval. Review and cancellation of authorisations do not require such judicial approval and remain an internal process.

5.8 The Role of the Justice of the Peace

5.8.1 The role of the JP is set out in RIPA. Section 23A of RIPA covers this role in relation to communications data, and section 32A covers this role in relation to applications for directed surveillance and CHIS.

5.8.2 These provisions state that the authorisation (or in the case of communications data the notice) shall not take effect until the JP has made an order approving grant of the authorisation or notice.

5.8.3 The matters on which a JP must be satisfied before making an order of approval are:

- There were reasonable grounds for believing that the authorisation is necessary and proportionate and that these grounds remain at the time of consideration by the JP;
- In relation to a CHIS, that there were also reasonable grounds to believe that arrangements exist for the safety and welfare of the source that satisfy section 29(5) RIPA and that these grounds remain at the time of consideration by the JP;
- In relation to a juvenile CHIS, that there were reasonable grounds to believe that the requirements imposed by Regulation of Investigatory Powers (Juveniles) Order 2003 were satisfied and that these grounds remain at the time of consideration by the JP.
- The application has been properly authorised by a designated person;
- The grant of authorisation (or in the case of communications data the notice) was not in breach of any restrictions imposed pursuant to sections 25(3), 29(7)(a), or 30(3) of RIPA.

5.9 Urgent Authorisations

5.9.1 Due to the fact that an authorisation under RIPA cannot take effect until approved by a JP, urgent oral authorisations can no longer be granted. There is no exception to this rule.

5.10 Duration

5.10.1 The Form must be reviewed in the time stated, renewed and/or cancelled once it is no longer needed. The 'authorisation' to carry out/conduct the surveillance lasts for a maximum of 3 months (from authorisation) for Directed Surveillance, and 12 months (from authorisation) for a CHIS (or one month if a juvenile CHIS). However, whether the surveillance is carried out/conducted or not in the relevant period, does not mean the 'authorisation' is 'spent'. In other words, the Forms do not expire! The forms have to be reviewed, renewed and/or cancelled (once they are no longer required).

5.10.2 Authorisations can be renewed in writing before the maximum period in the Authorisation has expired. The Authorising Officer must consider the matter afresh, including taking into account the benefits of the surveillance to date, and any collateral intrusion that has occurred. An Authorisation cannot be renewed after it has expired. In such event, a fresh Authorisation will be necessary.

5.10.3 The renewal will begin on the day when the authorisation would have expired.

6. WORKING WITH OTHER AGENCIES

6.1 When another Agency has been instructed on behalf of the Council to undertake any action under RIPA, this Document and the Forms in it must be used (as per normal procedure) and the Agency advised or kept informed, as necessary, of the various requirements. They must be made aware explicitly what they are authorised to do.

6.2 Where another Agency (e.g. Police, Customs & Excise, Inland Revenue etc.):-

(a) wish to use the Council's resources (e.g. CCTV surveillance systems), that agency must use its own RIPA procedures and, before any Officer agrees to allow the Council's resources to be used for the other agency's purposes, they must obtain a copy of that agency's RIPA form for the record (a copy of which must be passed to the Director of Democratic and Legal Services for the Central Register) or relevant extracts from the same which are sufficient for the purposes of protecting the Council and the use of its resources.

(b) wish to use the Council's premises for their own RIPA action, and is expressly seeking assistance from the Council, the Officer should normally co-operate with the same, unless there are security or other good operational or managerial reasons as to why the Council's premises should not be used for the agency's activities. Suitable insurance or other appropriate indemnities may be sought, if necessary, from the other Agency for the Council's co-operation in the Agent's RIPA operation. In such cases, however, the Council's own RIPA forms should not be used as the Council is only 'assisting' not being 'involved' in the RIPA activity of the external Agency.

6.3 In terms of 2(a), if the Police or other Agency wish to use Council resources for general surveillance, as opposed to specific RIPA operations, an appropriate letter requesting the proposed use, extent of remit, duration, who will be undertaking the general surveillance and the purpose of it must be obtained from the Police or other Agency before any Council resources are made available for the proposed use.

6.4 If in doubt, please consult with the Director of Democratic and Legal Services at the earliest opportunity, and in any case prior to making resources available.

7. RECORDS MANAGEMENT

7.1 The Council must keep a detailed record of all Authorisations, Reviews, Renewals, Cancellations and rejections in Departments and a Central Register of all Authorisation Forms will be maintained and monitored by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services.

7.2 Records Maintained by the Department

7.2.1 The Council will retain records for a period of at least three years from the ending of the Authorisation. The Office of the Surveillance Commissioners (OSC) can audit/review the Council's policies and procedures, and individual Authorisations, Reviews, Renewals, Cancellations and rejections. Records must include the following information:

- A copy of the Forms together with any supplementary documentation and notification of the approval given by the Authorising Officer;
- A record of the period over which the surveillance has taken place;
- The frequency of reviews prescribed by the Authorising Officer;
- A record of the result of each review of the authorisation;
- A copy of any renewal of an authorisation, together with the supporting documentation submitted when the renewal was requested;
- The date and time when any instruction was given by the Authorising Officer;
- The Unique Reference Number for the authorisation (URN).

7.3 Central Register Maintained by the Director of Democratic and Legal Services

7.3.1 For Directed Surveillance, the Central Register is administered by the Regulatory and Governance Manager on behalf the Director of Democratic and Legal Services. For CHIS applications, Authorising Officers must forward details of each Form B to the Director of Democratic and Legal Services for the Central Register, within 1 week of the Authorisation, Review, Renewal, Cancellation or rejection. The Director Democratic and Legal Services will monitor the same and give appropriate guidance, from time to time, or amend this Document as necessary.

8. CONCLUDING REMARKS

- 8.1 Where there is an interference with the right to respect for private life and family guaranteed under Article 8 of the European Convention on Human Rights, and where there is no other source of lawful authority for the interference, or if it is held not to be necessary or proportionate to the circumstances, the consequences of not obtaining or following the correct authorisation procedure set out in RIPA and this Document, may be that the action (and the evidence obtained) will be held to be unlawful by the Courts pursuant to Section 6 of the Human Rights Act 1998.
- 8.2 Obtaining an authorisation under RIPA and following this Document will therefore ensure that the action is carried out in accordance with the law and subject to stringent safeguards against abuse of anyone's human rights.
- 8.3 Authorising Officers will be suitably trained and they must exercise their minds every time they are asked to consider a Form. They must never sign or rubber stamp Form(s) without thinking about their own personal and the Council's responsibilities.
- 8.4 Any boxes not needed on the Form(s) must be clearly marked as being 'NOT APPLICABLE', 'N/A' or a line put through the same. Great care must also be taken to ensure accurate information is used and is inserted in the correct boxes. Reasons for any refusal of an application must also be kept on the form and the form retained for future audits.
- 8.5 For further advice and assistance on RIPA, please contact the Council's Director of Democratic and Legal Services (who is also the Monitoring Officer). Details are provided on the front of this Document.

APPENDIX D COVERT HUMAN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE (CHIS)

Additional Notes (an extract from the Home Office Code of Practice on CHIS)

Management of Covert Human Intelligence Sources

Tasking

- 6.1. Tasking is the assignment given to the CHIS by the persons defined at sections 29(5)(a) and (b) of the 2000 Act, asking him to obtain, provide access to or disclose information. Authorisation for the use or conduct of a CHIS will be appropriate prior to any tasking where such tasking involves the CHIS establishing or maintaining a personal or other relationship for a covert purpose.
- 6.2. Authorisations should not be drawn so narrowly that a separate authorisation is required each time the CHIS is tasked. Rather, an authorisation might cover, in broad terms, the nature of the source's task. If the nature of the task changes significantly, then a new authorisation may need to be sought.
- 6.3. It is difficult to predict exactly what might occur each time a meeting with a CHIS takes place, or the CHIS meets the subject of an investigation. There may be occasions when unforeseen action or undertakings occur. When this happens, the occurrence must be recorded as soon as practicable after the event and if the existing authorisation is insufficient it should either be updated at a review (for minor amendments only) or it should be cancelled and a new authorisation should be obtained before any further such action is carried out.
- 6.4. Similarly, where it is intended to task a CHIS in a significantly greater or different way than previously identified, the persons defined at section 29(5)(a) or (b) of the 2000 Act must refer the proposed tasking to the authorising officer, who should consider whether the existing authorisation is sufficient or needs to be replaced. This should be done in advance of any tasking and the details of such referrals must be recorded. Efforts should be made to minimise the number of authorisations per CHIS to the minimum necessary in order to avoid generating excessive paperwork.

Handlers and controllers

- 6.5. Public authorities should ensure that arrangements are in place for the proper oversight and management of CHIS, including appointing individual officers as defined in section 29(5)(a) and (b) of the 2000 Act for each CHIS.
- 6.6. Oversight and management arrangements for undercover operatives, while following the principles of the Act, will differ, in order to reflect the specific role of such individuals as members of public authorities.
- 6.7. The person referred to in section 29(5)(a) of the 2000 Act (the "handler") will have day to day responsibility for:

- dealing with the CHIS on behalf of the authority concerned;
  - directing the day to day activities of the CHIS;
  - recording the information supplied by the CHIS; and
  - monitoring the CHIS's security and welfare.
- 6.8. The handler of a CHIS will usually be of a rank or position below that of the authorising officer.
- 6.9. The person referred to in section 29(5)(b) of the 2000 Act (the "controller") will normally be responsible for the management and supervision of the "handler" and general oversight of the use of the CHIS.

Joint working

- 6.10. In cases where the authorisation is for the use or conduct of a CHIS whose activities benefit more than a single public authority, responsibilities for the management and oversight of that CHIS may be taken up by one authority or can be split between the authorities. The controller and handler of a CHIS need not be from the same public authority.
- 6.11. There are many cases where the activities of a CHIS may provide benefit to more than a single public authority. Such cases may include:
- The prevention or detection of criminal matters affecting a national or regional area, for example where the CHIS provides information relating to cross boundary or international drug trafficking;
  - The prevention or detection of criminal matters affecting crime and disorder, requiring joint agency operational activity, for example where a CHIS provides information relating to environmental health issues and offences of criminal damage, in a joint police/ local authority anti-social behaviour operation on a housing estate;
  - Matters of national security, for example where the CHIS provides information relating to terrorist activity and associated criminal offences for the benefit of the police and the Security Service.
- 6.12. In such situations, however, the public authorities involved must lay out in writing their agreed oversight arrangements.
- 6.13. Management responsibility for CHIS, and relevant roles, may also be divided between different police forces where the Chief Officers of the forces concerned have made a collaboration agreement under section 23 of the Police Act 1996 or section 12 of the Police (Scotland) Act 1967, and the collaboration agreement provides for this to happen.

Security and welfare

- 6.14. Any public authority deploying a CHIS should take into account the safety and welfare of that CHIS when carrying out actions in relation to an authorisation or tasking, and the foreseeable consequences to others of that tasking. Before authorising the use or conduct of a CHIS, the authorising officer should ensure that a risk assessment is carried out to determine the risk to the CHIS of any tasking and the likely consequences should the role of the CHIS become known. The ongoing security and welfare of the CHIS, after the cancellation of the authorisation, should also be considered at the outset. Also, consideration should be given to the management of any requirement to disclose information tending to reveal the existence or identity of a CHIS to, or in, court.
- 6.15. The CHIS handler is responsible for bringing to the attention of the CHIS controller any concerns about the personal circumstances of the CHIS, insofar as they might affect:
- the validity of the risk assessment;
  - the conduct of the CHIS; and
  - the safety and welfare of the CHIS.
- 6.16. Where appropriate, concerns about such matters must be considered by the authorising officer, and a decision taken on whether or not to allow the authorisation to continue.

SENIOR RESPONSIBLE OFFICERS AND OVERSIGHT BY COMMISSIONERS

The senior responsible officer

- 9.1. Within every relevant public authority a senior responsible officer must be responsible for:
- the integrity of the process in place within the public authority for the management of CHIS;
  - compliance with Part II of the Act and with this code;
  - oversight of the reporting of errors to the relevant oversight Commissioner and the identification of both the cause(s) of errors and the implementation of processes to minimise repetition of errors;
  - engagement with the OSC inspectors when they conduct their inspections, where applicable; and
  - where necessary, oversight of the implementation of post inspection action plans approved by the relevant oversight Commissioner.
- 9.2. Within local authorities, the senior responsible officer should be a member of the corporate leadership team and should be responsible for ensuring that all authorising officers are of an appropriate standard in light of any recommendations in the inspection reports prepared by the Office of Surveillance Commissioners. Where an inspection report highlights concerns about the standards of authorising officers, this individual will be responsible for ensuring the concerns are addressed.

Oversight by Commissioners

- 9.3. The 2000 Act requires the Chief Surveillance Commissioner to keep under review (with the assistance of the Surveillance Commissioners and Assistant Surveillance Commissioners) the performance of functions under Part III of the 1997 Act and Part II of the 2000 Act by the police (including the service police forces, the Ministry of Defence Police and the British Transport Police), SOCA, SCDEA, HMRC and the other public authorities listed in Schedule 1 of the 2000 Act and the Regulation of Investigatory Powers (Directed Surveillance and Covert Human Intelligence Sources) Order 2010, and in Northern Ireland officials of the Ministry of Defence and HM Forces.
- 9.4. The Intelligence Services Commissioner's remit is to provide independent oversight of the use of Part II of the 2000 Act and the 1994 Act by the Security Service, Secret Intelligence Service, GCHQ and the Ministry of Defence and HM Forces (excluding the service police forces, and in Northern Ireland officials of the Ministry of Defence and HM Forces).
- 9.5. This code does not cover the exercise of any of the Commissioners' functions. It is the duty of any person who uses Part II of RIPA to comply with any request made by a Commissioner to disclose or provide any information he requires for the purpose of enabling him to carry out his functions.
- 9.6. References in this code to the performance of review functions by the Chief Surveillance Commissioner and other Commissioners apply also to Inspectors and other members of staff to whom such functions have been delegated.
- 9.7.
